RUSIE AND THE NEW YORKS SUBDUE THE BALTIMORES.

ennings and Boyle Forced to Leave the Field ne of Injuries-Brooklyne Scare the Louisville and Cleveland Also Win.

The New Yorks began a most important week winning an exciting game from the Baltimores. If Joyce's men can win another ball in the present series with Hanlon's men and can then ake a majority of the coming games with the Bostons they will be very near the top. Just now they are playing fast ball, and the cranks are very hopeful. The Cincinnatis are still twenty-six points ahead of the locals, as Ewing's men won from Louisville on Sunday, but did not play in St. Louis yesterday because of a rainstorm. The Bostons increased their lead by ultimately winning a hair-raising contest from the Brooklyns, and the Clevelands got back into sixth place by outplaying the Pittsburgs at very point. It was a hard task for Philadelphia to beat Washington, but the Louisvilles found the Chicagos very easy. The results: New York, 4; Baltimore, 2. Boston, 9; Brooklyn, 8.

Hugh Jennings, the crack shortstop of the Baltimore Club, had a very narrow escape from a fatal accident at the Polo Grounds yesterday. In the first inning, as he was standing at the plate, a ball swiftly pitched by Hig Rusie struck him squarely bohind the left ear and caused him to fall heavily to the ground. He revived after a short delay, and proceeded to got around the bases with the second and last run made by the champions during the game. Then he took his place in the field, although he wore an expression of pain on his face and staggered perceptibly when he completed a lightning double play. As he came in to the bench after the inning was over be suddenly toppled over and his fellow players ran to his assistance. Jennings was in agony, and rolled on the ground. Joe Corbett and Mike Sullivan ran along in front of the grand stand calling for a doctor, and when a physician appeared he ordered Jennings to be taken from the field. The plucky Baltimore boy literally fought with his comrades to be allowed to remain in the game, but was finally led away to the dressing room. Jennings became delirious then, and was in that state all the way to the Broadway Central Hotel, where he was promptly put to bed. Last night the doctor and that he was suffering from a slight concussion of the brain and a temporary paralysis of the right arm, but he declared that his injuries would not prove serious and that Jennings would be able to play again in a few days. If the ball had struck Highey a few inches forward on the temple he might have been killed. It was an unfortunate accident, which was undoubtedly very costly, was followed by another that made NEW YORK, 4; BALTIMORE, 2.

Rusie.

This accident, which was undoubtedly very costly, was followed by another that made the champions bewall their fate. In the last half of the first inning Van Halten drove a swiftly bounding hall toward Doyle, and just as the latter stooped to pick it up, the sphere took a bad bound and hit Jack squarely in the left, eye opening a wound in the cheek. Jack was binded for a time by the blow and was compelled to leave the game. With Jennings and Doyle out, and Robinson, Clarke, and Keeler on the hospital list, the champions were certainly entitled to cry "hard luck," but with a patched up team they fought desperately to the end.

with a patched up team they fought desperately to the end.

The New Yorks won because Rusic pitched a magnificent game, and Joyce's men put up some fielding that no team in the League could excel. Davis and Gleason nalied what are usually safe hits around second base until the crowd went simply wild. Holmes also covered left field as though he never knew there was such a thing as a blinding sun to gauge, and big Bill Clark was a wall of adamant for throws and sharp grounders. Hanlon put in his left-hander, Jerry Nops, who was disposed of in the very first inning for enough runs to win. Then Dr. Pond did the twirling for the "champs," and he did it so craftily that the New Yorks got only one hit of his curves.

inning for enough runs to win. Then Dr. Pond did the twirling for the "champs," and he did it so craftily that the New Yorks got only one hit so flats energy.

The splendid showing of the local players in Baltimore and Washington last week was rewarded by one of the biggest crowds that has ever attended a Monday game, barring holidays, in this city. Fully 10,000 persons sat around the diamond, and when the New Yorks made their appearance for preliminary practice there was a rousing welcome in store for them. Capt. Joyce, however, was the real hero, and he was forced to raise his battle-scarred cap again and again in response to the enthusiastic cheering. It is so long since the New Yorks have had a fighting chance for the lead at this time of the year that the populace was evidently hungry for more, and everybody rooted in furious style.

There was a roar of delight when I impires O'Day and McDonald, who, by the way, did well, gave the signal to begin the battle, but there was a temporary lull when little McGraw received a base on balls from Rusie. Then, as an fliustration of how quickly hamseball favorites are forgotten by the fickle public. Jack Doyle, former manager of the New Yorks and a factor in the capture of the Temple Cup in 1804, came to the hat with scarcely if any recognition from the crowd. Jack quickly hammered a hot liner at Glesson, and a double play was apparently easy. But the Kid muffed the ball, McGraw, however, being forced at second.

At this point Jennings was hit on the head, and after five minutes' delay he took his base. Joe Kelley filled the bags with a beautifully placed bunt, and as Warner threw wildly to Davis to catch Jennings napping, Doyle scampered in with the first run. Jake Stenzel came along with a safe hit in right field, and Jennings scored, but Stenzel was caught trying to reach second on the throw-in. With Kelley on third, O'Brien sent a fly to Tiernan, and the crowd began to how! for a brace.

In a few moments Joyce's men had offset Baltimore's lead and the cranks were Reits, and when 'Scrappy' Joyce came up he got another ovation. The "Cap," without delay, smashed a corking single over second and Van Haityen raced in.

"Now, George, hit it out of the lot!" beseeched the cranks as Davis, who leads the New Yorks in batting, toed the scratch. Nops sent in a couple of twisters which were not suitable, but the next ball was so rotund and lovely that Davis swung his big bat with all his might. He hit the leather squarely, and the next instant Helley, looking up through his bine glasses, saw that the ball was sailing high over his head. Reidey, looking up through his bine glasses, saw that the ball was sailing high over his head. Reides above him.

The ball went on a line, struck the rail in front of the cranks, and went spinning among them. Had it been from the bat of a visitor it would have been promptly thrown out, although that wouldn't have made a particle of difference, as a hit into these scats is always good for a home yan. But, just to make Davis's four-bagger a sure thing, the rooters hung onto the ball as if it were a rold nugget, and when George had chased Joyce across the rubber they threw it out to the distracted Kelley.

Gleason drove a hot one toward Jennings, and the latter's fumble made the spectators believe that Hughey was not himself. Warner himmered another to the shortstop, who in a purely perfunctory manner put his foot on second and doubled up the bateman at first. Then he collapsed, and Hanion reconstructed his team by sending Quinn to short field. O'Brien to first base, and placing Pitcher Hoffer in right field. He also sent Pond in to pitch. Rusie settled down in the second inning, and thereafter the champions didn't get but five men to first base, and placing Pitcher Hoffer in right field. He also sent Pond in to pitch. Boston, June 28.—With the score 6 to 0 against them in the fifth inning to-day, Brookivn began to bat out an uphill game, in which they were assisted by the loosest kind of ball playing on the part of the Hub pennant aspirants. They ended their ninth two runs to the good; but Daub, then and there, gave away his ewn game by three bases on balls and allowing Stivetts to hit a high fly to short centre. Anderson, Griffin, and Smith got under it in plenty of time, but through the stupidest kind of outfield work ever seen here the ball was allowed to drop on the ground in the middle of the group. The hit brought in the tieing and the winning runs. The score:

Douglas Beats Toler-The Armstrong-Van Autwerp Match-Larchmont Results.

Findlay S. Douglas, who has been just long enough in the country to have regained his Scottish elegance of play, defeated H. P. Toler, the third medalist in the last amateur chamship, in a match at the Fairfield County Golf Club yesterday. Fifty-four holes were play. Douglas was one up on the first eighteen holes, but on the thirty-sixth hole Toler was one in the lead.

They both played a fine game. Starting the third eighteen holes, when Douglas was one down, the Scotchman presented a brilliant bit of golfing and showed himself well able to offset the fortunes that were setting against him. He made the first six holes in the remarkable score of twenty-one, the figures being 4, 4, 4, 3, 3, 3, This gave him a commanding lead, for, al-though Toler played in his best form, he could not beat such a great showing.

The tussle between Armstrong and Van Antwerp in the team match at Englewood on Saturday, when the former won by one up, was one of the hardest fights on record. Armstrong was of the hardest fights on record. Armstrong was obliged to lower the record for the course by eight strokes to win, while Van Antwerp pulled the old record down three strokes. At no time during the match did more than two holes separate the players, and that only once, when Van Antwerp was two up with four to go. Armstrong then had a remarkable combination of bed and good luck that won him the match. Driving for the sixteenth, the 415-yard hole, Armstrong's ball lodged in a cedar tree, off the course and eight feet from the ground. The ball seemed to be wedged in securely, yet on the outside chance, for it was all odds that he could not dislodge it, Armstrong, using his full strength, hit the tree with the back of his niblick, and he had the good fortune to send the ball a hundred feet up the course, and he finally won the hole.

lick, and he had the good fortune to send the ball a hundred feet up the course, and he finally won the hole.

Play is steadily progressing in the golf tourney at the Larchmont Yacht Club. To wind up the first round for the women's cup Mrs. Oswald Sanderson, 183, 16, 167, was beaten by Mrs. H. T. Shriver, 194, 40, 154, and, in the semi-finals, Mrs. La Duc, 183, 12, 141, beat Mrs. J. G. Mc-Laughlin, 167, 25, 142. In the semi-finals Mrs. Offiver Adams and Mrs. Shriver have still to play, the winner meeting Mrs. La Duc in the finals.

In the second round for the men's cup, played yesterday, the summaries are:

R. Hussy, 95, 8, 87, beat 0, 0, Smith, 111, 0, 111;

A. B. Alley, 105, 14, 91, beat W. E. Bullard, 119, 9, 110; J. W. Flint, 98, 12, 86, beat T. S. Scott, 120, 18, 102; W. C. Wotton, 117, 15, 103, beat George E. Ide, 123, 6, 117, and H. J. Shriver drew a bye.

The third round will be played on Thursday.

A new idea in competitions has been arranged at Larchmont. It is a four-some sweepstakes, called from the conditions the "Matrimonial Tournament." The rules are that each four-some shall be made up of a husband and his wife, all to play eighteen holes without tournament. Entries close on Wednesday and the tournament will be wound up on July 3.

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

BIG PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR THE NATIONAL MEET.

wenty-five Hundred Bollars Worth of Prizes to Be Bistributed—The Championship Races to Be Run on a Board Track—Fatal Acci-dent in an Australian Boad Race—Notes, It is expected that the national meet of the L. A. W., to be held at Philadelphia in August, will eclipse any previous event of the kind. Thomas Hare, Chairman of the Executive Committee, says:

"The preliminary work for the eighteenth annual national meet is now well under way and the committees in charge hope to arrange a programme which will be more than satisfactory to the thousands of members whom we expect to visit Philadelphia at that time. The race meet committee has received $2,500 for the purchase of prizes, which will enable them to present what will doubtless be the most attractive list ever offered at a national meet. It has been decided to lay a board surface upon the new track at Willow Grove, where the championship races will be held. No trouble or expense will be spared to make the track equal to any in the world. It has been decided to run the trial heats off in the mornings and the semi-finals and finals in the afternoons of Aug. 6 and 7.

The victory of Earl Kiser, the Ohio racer, over Bald and Cooper at Philadelphia on last Satur day entitles him to the undisputed credit of being the fastest professional on the track at present. Kiser has administered successive de eats to Bald, the claimant for championship honors. The professional riders will all gather on the national circuit this week, when Kiser, Bald and Cooper will meet repeatedly. Experienced racing men declare that with proper care Kiser will finish the season at the head of the list. During the New York State circuit Bald defeated Cooper in a number of races, but not-withstanding this fact it is expected that the latter will prove to be Bald's superior at the close of the season.

Advices from Australia indicate that the road racing season opened at Melbourne on May 15 and resulted disastrously for some of the con testants. In a twenty-mile handican event with eighty starters, B. M. Sheppard, with 819 minutes handicap, fell in descending a hill and was fracturing his skull and five ribs, the latter puncturing his lungs. He was conveyed to a hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness. T. Crotty, who was following Sheppard closely, rode over him and received a bac

SPRINGFIELD, June 28.—Notwithstanding the bad weather, the National Circuit meet held here to-day was a grand success. All of the best men of the country were entered with the exception of Hald, who will be here for to-morrow's meet. Kiser was for the first time defeated by Cooper this season in the mile, open. Six men started—Cooper, Kiser. Gardiner, Cabanne, Mertens, and Turnbull. The one-mile track was in Cooper's favor. Each man was forced to show to the front before the three-quarters pole was reached. Cooper led the bunch coming into the homestretch. Gardiner came round the bunch with a sprint and opened up a gap of two lengths. Cooper set out after him, with Kiser sleighriding on his rear wheel. Twenty yards from home Cooper closed with Gardiner and passed him, Gardiner quitting. Kiser came up to the side of Cooper, and right at the tape Cooper made a jump and won by half a length from Kiser, who in turn defeated Gardiner by an open length. Cabanne was fourth, and Mertens fifth. The half-mile State championship was won by E. W. Peabody, who also took the mile open, amateur. This makes twenty-five wins for Peabody this season. He will try and lower Zimmerman's record of 103 firsts for one season. The summaries:

The best time recorded in a trial heat in a handlesp cent race meet.

The best time recorded in a trial heat in a handleap race in this country from scratch is 2 minutes 7.1.5 seconds, made by Himstreet, 4the Denver rider. Last Saturday at Buffalo at an electric light meeting C. J. Miller of that city rode a mile from scratch in 2 minutes 7 seconds, which is a record.

Arrangements were consummated yesterday for a meeting between J. F. Starbuck and Fred Titus, to take place at the Manhattan Heach track on July 17. The distance will be twenty miles for a $1,000 purse. At the meet to be held at 8booting Park, Newark, on next Saturday, under the auspices of the Vim Hicyele Club of that city, the following races will be run: Amateur—One mile, novice; one mile, open; one mile, handleap; one mile and a half tandem, open; one mile, triplet. Professional—One mile, open; two miles, handleap. Teddy Goodman and Jay Eaton will ride a match race.

"Mysterious" Billy Smith and Con Boyle will box tweedy rounds at Elmira to morrow night. This affair ought to be quite interesting. Smith and Doyle met in this city last January and fought a twelveround draw. Smith broke his hand in the third round. Tommy West, who has decided not to do any fighting until next September, has received several offers to go to San Francisco and meet George tires there. West is ready to fight any one, but wants a reat. Tommy has done considerable fighting during the past few months, and deserves a vacation.

Teddy Alexander made an offer to take Jack Everhardt to England with him next month, but the latter refused and went to San Francisco instead. Alexander made an only the month, but the latter refused and went to San Francisco instead. Alexander may take another pugilist with him in place of Everhardt, for he has received word that he can secure a match in London for a good 18th pounder.

Jack McAuliffe has a great deal of trouble finding a good man to meet his proteigh. Harry Peppers, Peppers is quite large for a mbidle weight, and for this fact alone the 15th pounders give him a wide bertin. Peppers wants to fight Kid McCoy and will yield to anything reasonable to secure the match. If McCoy will not meet Peppers the latter is willing to have it out with Ban Creedon.

It looks just now as if Dan Greedon and Kid McCoy made an agreement to meet Creedon yesterday, but the latter failed to show up. McCoy wanted to talk the propert of a fight over. The Kid is now going after Joe Choynski, who has shown a preference to face the young middle weight.

Boxing at the Greenpoint S. C.

A large crowd witnessed the regular weekly boxing show of the Greenpoint Sporting Club in Brooklyn last night. The first bout was of ten rounds at 140 pounds between Marty Gallagher and Jack Robinson, both of Greenpoint. The men fought hard from the call of time and both anded some hard blows. In the fifth round Robinson landed a right-hand swing on Gallagher's jaw, sending him down. He rose very groggy, and the referee stopped the bout and awarded the decision to Robinson.

The second bout of ten rounds, at 126 pounds, was between Fred Wright and Jack Mullins, Wright forced the fighting and landed some hard swings on the wind. In the fifth round Wright went right at his man and fought him all over the ring. He rushed Mullins to the ropes and landed a right-hand swing on the jaw, scoring a clean knockdown. The referee stopped the bout and awarded it to Wright.

Then came the event of the night, ten rounds at 117 pounds, between Johnny Glynn of Wilmington and Billie Forsythe of Danbury. The fighting was very clean, both men breaking nicely. Glynn did the leading throughout, but Forsythe countered hard ou the face and wind. In a mix-up on the ropes in the fourth round Forsythe landed a left-hand swing on Glynn's right eye, nearly closing it. The tenth round was very fast, both men landing some hard swings. The referee decided the bout a draw. lagher's jaw, sending him down. He rose very PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—The expected con test at the Arena to-night between "Kid" Lavigne and Young Griffo disappointed 2,000 spec-tators by the failure of Lavigne to appear in the tators by the failure of Lavigne to appear in the ring. The referee mode the announcement from the stage platform that Lavigne was in no condition to appear. Martin Judge, a local light weight, was put in the ring to meet the Australian. Judge was so fairly outclassed by his opponent that the fight was practically a failure. The disappointment was in a measure compensated for by some spirited and clever boxing in the preliminaries.

Henry J. Bookmann again won the honors in yester day's clay bird contest of the Nimrod Rod and Gun Club, which took place at Bookmann's Cypress Hills Park. Aside from the club shoot, three sweepstake events were decided in which Bookmann was on top each time, his nearest opponent being Joseph Bauser. The score:
First Event.—Regular monthly club shoot at twenty largets each, known traps and angles, for yearly prizes.—Henry J. Hockmann, 1s. Anton Fluegel, 14;
Andrew Beck, 12; John R. Schlachter, 11; August
